DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This semi-detached house of $2\frac{1}{2}$ stories with gabled mansard roof ^{has a facade} constructed entirely of running bond with the exception of window sills, cornice and balcony of stone. This balcony, supported by six rows of bricks in ascending step formation, and enhanced by an iron grill railing, sets off a 2nd story window arrangement of a central, double-hung one-over-one window flanked on either side by extremely narrow windows. Pilasters extending from the balcony to the peak of the gable define and separate this window arrangement.

The same window arrangement but shorter in height and lacking the stained glass one-section light above the central double-hung window is repeated in the gable window and set off by the same pilasters.

Below the balcony, the first story is accented by a full-arched window arrangement of a grouping of two windows. In each case a lower single pane light is topped by an arched pane of half-clear and half-leaded glass divided into 15 subdivisions.

The doorway, approached by 8 steps and stoop decorated with iron railing is full-arched with leaded glass transom leading into a vestibule.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This block of East Biddle has rowhouses of varying styles. 204 and 206 East Biddle are houses of size and importance with interesting decorative and sculptural elements. They obviously belonged to people of taste and wealth. The rest of the block contains houses with rusticated stone and brick facades and others with bowed fronts built of stone and brick. These houses are relatively modest in size than many of the buildings in more central locations in the rest of the neighborhood.
